International String Trio

The International String Trio and their quartet, Valinor, were both founded by Musical Director and guitarist, Slava Tolstoy. During the last 10 years, this collective of the region's top "crossover" string players has performed at more than 1000 venues across the USA gaining national recognition for their distinct sound and stylistic diversity. Both groups perform a mix of classical, jazz, pop and multi-cultural folk music for over 150 events annually.
